

Bananaquit Coereba flaveola

25

FEATHERY FACTS

The Bananaquit loves sugar so much that many people call it the Sugar Bird. In the wild, it gets sugar from flower nectar. But if you leave a bowl of sugar outside it will eat that, too. Bananaquits live all over the Caribbean, but on each island they look a bit different.

